

PRESS RELEASE

December 20, 1990

KOREAN FILM SERIES AT THE CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF ART

Four recent feature films from South Korea will be shown on Wednesdays and Sundays between January 2 and 13 at The Cleveland Museum of Art, 11150 East Boulevard at University Circle. This "Korean Cinema Sampler" complements the exhibition of Korean Art that also closes on January 13, the final event in the Museum's annual "Asian Autumn" celebration. All films are Ohio premieres.

Three of the movies are directed by the prolific veteran Im Kwon-Taek, probably South Korea's most honored filmmaker. The fourth is a contemporary love story by the much younger, but no less acclaimed, Bae Chang-Ho. All four films have been widely praised in Korea and at film festivals worldwide. All have English subtitles.

Admission to each film is $3, $2 for Museum members. For further information call 216/421-7340.

Wednesday, January 2, 7:30 pm

Mandala, directed by Im Kwon-Taek, 1981.

Sunday, January 6, 3:30 pm

Gilsodom, directed by Im Kwon-Taek, 1986.

Wednesday, January 9, 7:30 pm

Our Sweet Days of Youth, directed by Bae Chang-Ho, 1987.

Sunday, January 13, 3:30 pm

Surrogate Mother, directed by Im Kwon-Taek, 1986.

#